

SIXTEEN SPEECHES ON COX'S SCHEDULE IN MIDDLE WEST

Agriculture and League of Nations Major South Dakota Topics.

By the Associated Press.
SIOUX CITY, Iowa, September 28.—A day's campaigning calling for sixteen speeches, equaling his record mark, was begun here early this morning by Gov. Cox of Ohio. A brief before-breakfast talk here at the station headed off one of the hardest programs of the democratic presidential candidate's trip. From here a special train provided by the South Dakota committee was engaged to take him on a tour of fourteen cities in the southern and eastern parts of South Dakota. His address here was the only Iowa engagement on the governor's itinerary.

The league of nations and agricultural questions were the major topics of Gov. Cox for his South Dakota tour. He followed the hard program of the dozen speeches he made yesterday throughout Nebraska, closing at Omaha last night.

One of the hardest programs of the democratic presidential candidate's trip. From here a special train provided by the South Dakota committee was engaged to take him on a tour of fourteen cities in the southern and eastern parts of South Dakota. World Have Supported Bryan.
OMAHA, Neb., September 28.—Gov. Cox, democratic presidential candidate, last night gave out a statement that he would support William J. Bryan for the presidency had the former Secretary of State been nominated, and added that he had been an influence for good. I supported him three times for the presidency with my newspaper, and I will do so again this year had he been the candidate of the democratic party.

Disapproval of "matters" in the administration. The governor's statement was expressed by Gov. Cox in a speech at the Lincoln Hotel, where a strenuous Nebraska campaign was closed.

Reactionary Press Criticized.
Here and at Lincoln the governor expanded on his charges that the reactionary press was "a deliberate and corrupt purpose to keep the people from the truth." He declared that there was an "attempt to buy up newspapers everywhere."

REFUGEES FROM THE DEVASTATED PARTS OF POLAND.

Arrivals in New York from Poland on the steamship La Touraine, having been three months en route, to start life under the protection of Old Glory, without a single acquaintance. All fled their native land when the Russian forces threatened Warsaw. Hundreds of these refugees and other immigrants are arriving in New York daily, and the immigration station at Ellis Island is much crowded.

and who has a record for constructive achievement along administrative lines.

After his address in East Orange on the afternoon, Mr. Roosevelt called on Thomas A. Edison, the inventor. He spoke in Newark early in the evening, and then motored to Jersey City for a meeting there. Mr. Roosevelt later went back to New York and boarded a train for Martinsburg, W. Va., where he speaks today. After a week's campaigning in West Virginia and Kentucky, Mr. Roosevelt starts on his final campaign in the west.

ADVISES WATCHING FRUIT JUICE LABELS

Only Way to Secure Natural Beverage, Says Health Officer

Fowler.

Health Officer Fowler today advised the people of Washington to watch the labels on fruit juice soft drinks if they want to be sure they are getting the natural fruit beverage and not one that is artificially colored.

Dr. Fowler made the suggestion in discussing the warning issued yesterday by the public health service to the effect that artificial fruit beverages have flooded the soft-drink market since the advent of prohibition.

The district health officer said that several months ago he obtained samples of a number of soft drinks to determine if they contained the natural fruit juices. He said that his analysis found that some of them were not made of the natural juice, the labels clearly stated that the beverage was artificially prepared.

Since the beverages were correctly labeled, there was no violation of law. "The only way people can guard against artifices when they want a natural fruit juice beverage is to watch the label," said the health officer.

The warning of the public health service called particular attention to the fact that some of the soft drinks do not contain the juice of the orange, but the oil from the orange peel, artificially colored.

KILLS SELF WITH SHOT.
Joseph Trzizicky of Czechoslovak Bureau a Suicide.

Joseph Trzizicky, who served as director of the Czechoslovak bureau of information in this city, shot himself in the head last night and died later at Casualty Hospital. The man was a native of Prague, 119 Mary-lane northeast, last evening, his wife and child being absent on a visit to friends.

The man was shot by a neighbor, who notified the police. The wounded man was rushed to Casualty Hospital, where Dr. Ralph Stewart pronounced him dead.

Lieut. Pierson and Sergt. Thompson and Policeman Sawyer of the ninth precinct made an investigation. Mr. Trzizicky is said to have suffered from nervous disorder during the past year. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

HAMLETS MOVE BODILY.
Landslides in Alps of Upper Austria Do Damage.

VIENNA, September 23.—Slow-moving landslides covering considerable territory, are doing considerable damage in the Alps of Upper Austria. The entire mountain surface apparently is settling into the Leitzing valley. Many houses have been destroyed and hamlets, forests and fields are moving bodily, accompanied by tremendous noises.

NEW SAYS PRESIDENT YIELDS TO JAPANESE

Quotes Press Dispatch in Arrangement of Administration's Policy.

CHICAGO, September 28.—President Wilson has "surrendered our friend, the republic of China, to our antagonist, the empire of Japan," Senator Harry S. New of Indiana declared yesterday in a statement issued by republican national campaign headquarters, commenting on Associated Press dispatches from Tokyo.

Senator New is a member of the Senate foreign relations committee. "An Associated Press dispatch from Tokyo quotes a Japanese statesman as saying that negotiations with the United States on the California question are entering upon the serious stage," the statement says.

"The dispatch adds that 'Foreign Minister Uchida went to Odawara and conferred on the California question with Field Marshal Yamagata, supreme military commander.' That gives peace-loving Americans something to ponder over."

"To Japan President Wilson has conferred a paramount position in Asia by means of the Lansing-Ishii agreement. To Japan he has given up the 'open door' secured by John Hay for American trade in China. To Japan he has given the Ladrone, the Marianas and the Caroline Islands in the Pacific to his own people, to his own possessions in the Philippines. To Japan he has yielded the Panama province, with its 30,000,000 Chinamen."

"She demands now that she settle the California land question in her favor, and guarantee her all rights and privileges of citizenship on the Pacific coast; and she demands this final sacrifice with vague threats of 'serious' complications if the sacrifice is not made."

"This is the danger that a supine and timid domestic policy has brought us to—the danger of an open conflict. That is the kind of 'peace' that a democrat in the White House guarantees with his international and un-American policies."

HARDING AND COX ALIKE.
One Voted Dry Twice; Other Dried One City Sundays, Drys Say.

CHICAGO, September 28.—The prohibition party sees no difference in the records and attitude of Senator Harding and Gov. Cox on the prohibition question. Mrs. Margaret Winter, director of the woman's campaign of the prohibition party, announced.

"The prohibition party has made no discrimination in the questioning of candidates. Miss Winter's statement says: 'We have put the identical questions and made identical appeals to both Mr. Cox and Mr. Harding. We do not see any difference in the records or attitude of the two candidates on the prohibition question.'"

While Mr. Harding is overworking his senatorial temperance record, which is two dry votes against thirty for wet measures, Mr. Cox is using the Sunday closing of saloons in one lone city as a smoke screen to disguise the fact that at the same time saloons were running wide open on Sunday in other cities of the state."

PLAN DEMOCRATIC RALLY.
Treasury Official to Address Gathering Tonight.

E. S. Woolworth, counsel for the division of war savings, Treasury Department, and James H. Keeley are to be the principal speakers at a democratic rally tonight at 8 o'clock, in the headquarters, 1345 Pennsylvania avenue.

John B. Colboys, secretary of the state central committee, announced today that a notary public has been engaged for tomorrow night to take the affidavits of the Indiana voters who are to assemble in the democratic headquarters.

The following Wednesday night, October 6, will be known as "Tennessee night," when all those entitled to vote in Tennessee are invited to the headquarters. Their rights under the absentee voters' law will be explained and advice given them as to what they must do to qualify to vote on November 2.

CHANGES ON HERALD.
John E. Rice Made President and General Manager.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Washington Herald Company held Monday John E. Rice was elected president, succeeding Walter Rogers, who has been president since the Herald company, and who is devoting his entire time to the International Communications Congress, of which he is one of the American delegates.

Mr. Rice was also appointed general manager of the Herald, to succeed Herman Suter, who helped negotiate the purchase of the Herald last December for the District of Columbia, and who has been in active charge of the paper pending the appointment of a permanent general manager.

Prisoner Escapes, Visits Children, Returns to Jail

WHEELING, W. Va., September 28.—For the first time in the history of the institution, according to Warden Terrell, an escaped prisoner returned voluntarily yesterday to the Mountsview, W. Va., penitentiary.

The prisoner, Oda Miller, a trusty, with five months of a two-year term to serve, walked away from the prison farm Tuesday last. He said he could not resist the temptation to visit his children at Clarksburg. Miller's punishment will be light, Warden Terrell expects, because of his voluntary surrender.

After his arrest, the young man said to have admitted his guilt to the police. Money and diamonds taken from the Allen home were recovered. It was 1:30 o'clock this morning when Mr. Allen heard a noise in the bathroom. Thinking it was a member of the family, he paid no attention to the disturbance until a man entered his bedroom. Then he recognized the burglar and broke into the room, where he found the intruder, who leveled an automatic revolver and commanded him to hold up his hands.

After the fight three shots were fired. One of the taking effect in the scalp of the burglar and causing a trail of blood from the second story down stairs. During the fight Mrs. Allen and her daughter Catherine, thirteen years old, left their beds and took part in the struggle. The prisoner's face bears witness of their activity.

When the scene of the struggle changed to the first floor Mrs. Allen decided to take refuge in the kitchen. She made her getaway so she went outside the house and found a hammer, which later was identified as one used by the burglar to break into the house. She picked it up, waited, and pretty soon the burglar made his dash for freedom. She followed him and delivered a telling blow on the young man's cranium as he departed down the sidewalk.

Miss Werdna House, a relative of the Allens, also participated in the efforts to prevent the escape of the burglar. The police were notified of the fight, but by the time they arrived the burglar had disappeared. Reports were sent to all the hospitals of the city to look out for a wounded man, and when young Albrecht appeared at Sibley this morning, one glance was enough to convince the authorities he was severely wounded. It will be some time before he forgets the various souvenirs he carried from the Allen home.

Mr. Allen suffered bruises and scratches as a result of his fight with the intruder. Another burglar scared away. While detectives were engaged in a search for the robber-assault, word was received that a man had been discovered in the home of Louis H. Simpkins, 3311 Central avenue, Woodridge, and it was thought the Allen burglar was making a second haul. Detectives Bradley and Darnall made a hurried investigation and learned that the intruder at the Simpkins home had gained entrance by the back door.

Dora Simpkins, daughter of Mr. Simpkins, awakened by the noise of the intruder, screamed and frightened him from the house. Leaving the Simpkins home, the detectives went to the vicinity of Silver Spring, where they found the burglar before daybreak. Presence of an automobile parked on the road attracted their attention. They found the intruder.

IDENTIFY BURGLAR BY WOUNDS HE GOT

Intruder Badly Wounded at Home of J. Wallace Allen.

Suffering from a bullet wound and the blow of a hammer on his head, his face scratched and his clothing spattered with blood, a young man gave his name as Charles Thomas Albrecht, his age as nineteen and his address as 120 Bond street, Baltimore, walked into Sibley Hospital early this morning and asked for treatment. He was arrested and held for the attempted burglary last night of the home of J. Wallace Allen, an insurance man, 515 14th street. He resolved his wounds, it is charged, when he tried to escape from the house after arousing Mr. Allen and his family.

After his arrest, the young man said to have admitted his guilt to the police. Money and diamonds taken from the Allen home were recovered. It was 1:30 o'clock this morning when Mr. Allen heard a noise in the bathroom. Thinking it was a member of the family, he paid no attention to the disturbance until a man entered his bedroom. ## Rough Going Seen For Business and Labor Profiteer

CLEVELAND, Ohio, September 28.—A review of business conditions in the fourth Federal Reserve Bank district for the month of September, D. C. Wills, chairman of the board, today called attention to the "prostitute" labor as well as the business "profiteer" to the fact that they will find rough going ahead.

"The business profiteer," the report states, "is being forced out by an outraged public, and the labor profiteer is finding it more difficult to maintain his position of 'more pay and less work.'"

The report says there is less apprehension in business circles than there was thirty days ago and that there is no longer an acute scarcity of goods or labor.

The automobile was in charge of Lloyd Monroe, a colored resident of this city, and he was placed under arrest.

It developed that Monroe was in Maryland without a driver's permit and was using a dealer's license. He was taken to the home of Magistrate Sawyer at Silver Spring, where he admitted guilt of the two charges and was fined $40 and costs. Having only about $10 in his possession, the detectives stated, he was held in custody of the Maryland authorities.

Washington College of Law Has Entertaining Program.

The opening last night of the Washington College of Law in its new home at 1315 K street, on Franklin square, was attended by entertainment features. The building formerly was the home of Robert G. Ingersoll.

The program was provided by a class of 1922, consisting of a play, the titled, "Her Tongue." It was directed by Miss Nellie C. Hurley, with the following cast, given in order of their appearances: Harriet M. Fowler, Minnie Bracy, Anna Boyle, Fred Bracy, Raymond J. Bowler, Louis Sobel, J. A. L. Sayer, Patty Hanselke, Olga E. Mergel. Later there was an informal reunion to greet the students old and new and to welcome the members of the alumni and other friends who were present.

The first number of the college paper entitled, "The College Grit," published its initial edition on the opening day. The editor is William G. Jones of the senior class and the advertising manager Miss Maude Felheimer, also of the senior class.

ASSERTS HARDING FAVORS SOVIET

Karl Radek Says G. O. P. Candidate Would Recognize Reds to Gain Trade.

BY ISAAC DON LEVINE.
By Cable to The Star and Chicago Daily News. Copyright, 1920.

RIGA, Latvia, September 28.—Karl Radek, the bolshevik leader, writing in the Izvestia of September 23 about the interruption in the political negotiations between Russia and England, says that Senator Harding favors the recognition of the soviet government.

"The political helm has now dropped out of the hands of Premier Lloyd George," writes Radek. "At the same time the declaration of the Republican party in America, headed by its presidential candidate, Senator Harding, for the recognition of soviet Russia shows that American capital is trying to take advantage of England's retreat to a secondary position in order to enter into commercial relations with soviet Russia, cutting England off from her only non-American oil sources."

After declaring that the French policy is a new attempt to crush the soviet regime through Gen. Wrangel of Rumania and Poland, Radek says:

Red Army Only One Weapon.
"We are deeply convinced that if we are now forced to fight Poland, we shall sweep on as far as Posen, and that the red army will leave only when the Polish workmen create their own army in soviet Poland. More than ever before we know that the red army is only one weapon."

"Our other weapon is communist propaganda behind the fronts of our enemies. The British government fears propaganda. It fears our influence in the east. We can say to it, 'You wanted to stifle the voice of Russia in London. You will hear it not only in London, but also among the millions of toilers in the east.'"

"We can wait another winter convinced that the moment will arrive when the British government—perhaps no longer Lloyd George's government—will again send warships in order to carry out political representatives in order to conclude peace with us."
